

Version: 23 November 2020 (15:00h). This document will be refreshed if new information we receive from Erasmus+/European Commission is available.

This version applies to situations in academic year 2020-2021 – Fall 2020 semester

Topic: Erasmus+ Grant and Coronavirus

From: Team Study Abroad (studyabroad@fontys.nl)

In this note we summarize the most common situations and the consequences for your Erasmus+ grant.

Please note that all this information only applies to Erasmus+ scholarship. Not to other funds from your institute/Fontys.

For Virtual Mobility and Blended Mobility (combination of virtual and physical mobility), please check the special documents on the Erasmus+ scholarships page.

Please note these facts:

- Check the country code from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. When the country code is Green or Yellow now, but turns Orange or Red while you are preparing to leave or while you are there, a case of Force Majeure (overmacht) applies to your situation.
- When a country is already Orange or Red before you leave this does not apply.
- Officially, the minimum duration for Erasmus+ activities is 2 months for Internship Abroad and 3 months for Study Abroad. However, in this case of Force Majeure these durations are not relevant anymore for the Erasmus+ scholarship.

Please note that all this information only applies to Erasmus+ scholarship. Not to other funds from of institute/Fontys.

- ✓ In all studies/internships abroad that were cancelled / shortened due to Corona-virus, Fontys will apply for Force Majeure at the European Commission, also if the minimum duration of the activity abroad was not reached.
- ✓ Students who had already started their stay abroad, will in case of Force Majeure due to a change country colour (green/yellow to orange/red) be able to keep the Erasmus+ Scholarship.
- ✓ Students with a situation of Force Majeure that continue their study/internship online (does not matter from where) will still receive the Erasmus+ scholarship as it is in the Grant Agreement.
- ✓ As soon as you receive the official documentation (Statement of Host / Transcript of Records / Traineeship Certificate) from your host university/organisation you can upload this in Mobility Online and complete all the steps. If you do not get this documentation you need to ask your host university/organisation for an email mentioning your start/end date. The dates in the documents/email do not influence your scholarship amount if you had already started your period abroad and had to quit.
- ✓ Students in situations where the activity was cancelled before departure due to a change from green/yellow to orange/red in the country code, will only get their travel + accommodation expenses reimbursed by Erasmus+, in case this is not covered by the insurance or landlord. If the first payment (70% of the total scholarship amount) was already received, this will be settled with the claimed expenses, so it can be that part of the first payment has to be paid back. If no travel or accommodation expenses were made that can be reimbursed, the full first payment has to be paid back. The maximum amount of reimbursement is the total amount that was stated on your signed Grant Agreement.
- ✓ If you are still abroad and your study/internship is prolonged, also proceed all the normal steps in Mobility Online and fill in the dates of start/end corresponding to the official documentation. You will be able to get the scholarship for the full duration. Please inform your International Coordinator about this extra duration and ask for their approval.
- ✓ If you want to go abroad another time, in next semesters, you can still apply for a new Erasmus+ scholarship. It must be noted that the maximum duration you can get an Erasmus+ scholarship, during your Bachelor studies, is 360 days in total, adding up all the days of the different activities abroad. This includes the Erasmus+ days that you reported during this period abroad that was shortened due to Corona-virus. Even if the minimum number of days was not reached.
- ✓ Only students that did not leave yet will be able to claim their travel and accommodation expenses if purchased already, and if they are not paid by the insurance or landlord. For those students, please find an example email on the next page, so we can easily process and reimburse the amount as quickly as possible. Copy/paste this text in your email, so that we can administer the requests in the easiest way.

Note: this concept email only applies to students that did not leave for their Erasmus+ activity.

Dear Team Study Abroad - Erasmus+,

I would like to claim travel or accommodation expenses for my study/internship (please select one) abroad. I understand that Team Study Abroad will settle these expenses with my first payment (if I received it already).

In my situation the country code changed from green/yellow to orange/red while I was preparing for my study/internship abroad.

I had already purchased and made these costs, and I do not get them from the insurance or landlord. The total amount is euro.

Find attached:

- Evidence of booking/purchase of travel expenses*
- Rental agreement or other evidence of accommodation expenses*
- Evidence of payment of these expenses*
- Evidence of the insurance or landlord stating that I do not get this amount covered*

Kind regards,
